Owner: Doris and Denny Lauing

Horse: Lot 22

Diagnosis: Hematoma to the right throatlatch

There is a hematoma caused by some form of trauma on the right throatlatch area of this gelding. The hematoma was drained and a penrose drain was put into place. The horse is currently on antibiotics and anti-inflammatories. The Lauing's are treating the injury appropriately per veterinary instructions at this time.

In my professional opinion, this injury will fully heal; this injury should not functionally cause any problems for future use.

Please, let me know if you have any further questions or concerns.
